Flaming Butane Turns Outing Into Scene of Death

STEEL WAGE NEGOTIATORS TAKE RECESS

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel industry contract negotiations are recessed until Wednesday. A strike deadline has been postponed for two weeks, until midnight July 14.

President Eisenhower's intervention Saturday paved the way for the postponement. The strike had been scheduled for Tuesday night, barring a sudden settlement, which nobody expected.

David J. McDonald, head of the United Steelworkers, scheduled meetings today with his 33-man executive board and 171-member international wage policy committee. Both sessions were expected to be routine.

The industry position against granting any labor cost increases still stands. This was made clear in a statement by R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, and by Thomas Patton, president of Republic Steel Corp.

Patton said on a nationwide television broadcast Sunday night that his firm is unwilling to grant any labor cost increases without compensating price increases. Asked about record 1959 profit reports, Patton said the long-range expectation is what must be considered.

McDonald called Cooper's re-statement of concern over inflation "a rehash of the same old mishmash." The union is insisting on sizable gains in wages and other worker benefits. According to government figures, steelworkers earned an average of $3.10 an hour in April.

Blast in Propane Gas Warehouse Rocks Community

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — A series of rapid-fire explosions at a propane gas warehouse rocked a wide area of this northern New York community Sunday.

William Buskey, 25, an employee of the Quick Flame Gas Corp., suffered minor burns. No one else was injured.

Owner George Ryan said Buskey, notified there was a leak, checked the storage tanks and found the valves closed. "He had finished that job and was on a loading platform when the loose gas exploded. That blast set off a chain-reaction in which 125 tanks filled for home delivery blew up."

The resulting fire damaged the warehouse, but two main tanks, under 5,000 pounds pressure, did not explode. Another 125 delivery tanks also remained intact.

The loss was not determined, nor was it known what touched off the first explosion.

Propane gas in tanks, is used widely for cooking and heating in rural and suburban areas.

Gasoline Truck Hurtles Down Mountain Highway

ST. MARYS, Mont. (AP) — A huge gasoline truck hurtled out of control down a mountain highway for a half-mile Sunday, crashing at the edge of this resort town in a spectacular explosion.

The truck's driver, Floyd B. Cole, 28, was killed.

Both trailers of the 36-ton truck, carrying 6,550 gallons of diesel fuel, exploded as it smashed into a row of gasoline pumps.

President Signs Compromise Federal Aid Airport Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a compromise two-year extension of federal aid for airport development, providing for more spending than he recommended. The measure had been cut down by Congress to 126 million dollars in the face of a veto threat raised during the debate. The extension is for 63 million dollars a year.

Democrats had fought for a costlier and longer program and some of them complained they had to accept the smaller outlay "with a loaded veto pen at our heads."

The House originally voted for a four-year 297-million-dollar extension and the Senate a

Only $118,000,000 in New Taxes Required To Meet Needs GOP Leaders Insist

HARRISBURG (AP) — Leaders of the Republican Party declared today that only 118 million dollars in new taxes will be needed to meet the present state requirements.

The figure was $9 millions less than the 207 million dollars in new taxes which the Lawrence administration has insisted it will need to run the government during the 1959-61 biennium.

Sen. James S. Berger, Republican floor leader, disclosed the figure agreed upon by the GOP leaders in "an extended discussion on taxes" which last until after midnight.

"After considering the new estimates of revenue and the decreased deficit, budget reductions and revenue from present taxes, 118 million dollars in new tax money is as much as will be needed to meet present state requirements," the senate majority leader said.

"We are not ignoring the possibility that some help will be needed by school districts and by some other institutions such as hospitals which, of course, would increase the needs," he added.

The Potter County lawmaker declined to give a breakdown of the figures or any statement about which of the proposed new taxes Republicans would support.

Republicans said earlier they would cut between 40 and 60 million dollars from the record budget Lawrence proposed for the biennium.

Lawrence is due to address a joint session of the General Assembly late today to make a plea for passage of his stalled program of new taxes.

Berger said he had no idea what the governor would say but did not believe the speech would have any effect on the 118-million-dollar figure.

"We believe our figures are accurate," he declared.

George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, predicted in a weekend statement that Republicans would cut 100 million dollars from Lawrence's request for new taxes.

However, he said, the GOP recognizes "the needs of Pennsylvania and will give enough votes to support measures of proven fiscal integrity."

Legislative action on a controversial bill to stiffen penalties for Sunday sales of nonessential items also is expected to move closer to final approval this week.

Speaker H. G. Andrews predicted Sunday that the House Rules Committee would approve the measure Tuesday and that it would be called for a vote by the full House membership on Wednesday.

Eight Drownings Are Reported in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 17 persons were killed accidentally in Pennsylvania over the weekend.

Eight persons drowned. Seven lost their lives in auto tragedies. Two were killed in other accidents.

The first full weekend of hot, humid summer weather sent thousands to swimming refuges as reflected in the highest number of drownings for a weekend this year. It was the first time this year that drownings took more lives than auto accidents.

This weekend's death toll was a sharp rise from last weekend when only six persons were killed. And of the six last weekend, surprisingly none of the victims drowned.

four-year 466-million-dollar bill. Eisenhower had proposed a four-year, 200-million-dollar extension.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) author of the original Senate airport bill and also of the stopgap measure, noted that the present law expires June 30. He said the two-year extension would take the program into the administration of the new president elected next year.

The bill contains language barring the use of federal funds for terminal facilities, bars, commercial shops, cocktail lounges and similar additions unless the program administrator holds they are essential.

The House originally voted for a four-year 297-million-dollar extension and the Senate a

Russian Premier And President To Open Exposition

NEW YORK (AP) — The First Deputy Premier of the Soviet Union, Frol R. Kozlov, took a walk today to the vast dismay of police.

Passing up arrangements for an elaborate motorcade across town, Kozlov at the last minute set off afoot on the one-mile hike between his country's diplomatic headquarters and the Coliseum where a Soviet cultural and scientific exhibition is being held.

A dozen aides accompanied him while surprised police brass hustled along as escort. The chauffeurs of waiting limousines just scratched their heads. Motorcycle police circled a few city blocks along the route, then gave up.

The group strolled without incident from Park Avenue and 68th Street, where the Soviet United Nations delegation resides, and through Central Park to the exhibit hall at 60th Street and Broadway.

Kozlov arrived from Russia Sunday to preside at the opening tonight.

President Eisenhower flies here today to get a preview of the display, and presumably will meet Kozlov briefly. Vice President Nixon is taking part in the formal ceremonies.

The show opens to the public Tuesday.

The affable, gray-haired Kozlov—called the No. 3 man in the Kremlin—will go to Washington Tuesday to talk with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Kozlov arrived in the world's biggest airliner, a Soviet propjet TU114, which set a record for flying time between New York and Moscow.

It was the first nonstop flight between the two capitals. The flying time was 11 hours and 6 minutes for the 5,092-mile trip. That's an average speed of 460 miles an hour.

Kozlov is a square-faced man of 50, with a ready smile and a loud voice. He smiled often and made several jokes after his arrival.

Royal Couple Will Attend Tuesday Race

By REELMAN MORIN

TORONTO (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II received the biggest, noisiest reception of her Canadian tour on her arrival in Toronto today.

More than 6,000 people overflowed a temporary grandstand erected on the pier where the royal yacht Britannia tied up. Several thousand others were standing around a huge enclosure.

In the harbor, hundreds of boats, large and small, were lined up. Flags and streamers fluttered from masts and rigging. As the Britannia approached, she blew three deep-throated blasts and the harbor became a bedlam of noise as the small craft responded.

It was a warm sunny morning.

After a reception on the usual red carpet on the dock, the Queen and her husband, Prince Philip, set out on a tightly knit program that will not end until 10 p.m.

Tuesday the Queen breaks the routine of formal ceremonies for two of her favorite diversions, horse racing and the theater.

Canada's top racing event, the Queen's Plate, will be run here with the Queen and Philip watching.

At nearby Stratford, the Shakespearean Festival group gives a command performance of "As You Like It" for the royal couple.

The couple went ashore for two hours Sunday at Kingston and attended services at the United Church in the late afternoon. It was the first time the Queen had attended religious services other than Anglican on Canadian soil.

Canada's United Church was formed in 1925 in a merger of Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists.

The Rev. Richard H. N. Davidson preached an 11-minute sermon. He prayed for guidance for the royal couple and the strength (From Page One)

Shakeup Appears Likely in Israel Over Arms Deal

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel's coalition Cabinet decides today whether to approve an arms deal with West Germany unanimously or except the resignation of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

Ben-Gurion told leaders of his Socialist Labor party—the Mafpeh—he would resign if left-wing "opposition from within" his Cabinet failed to approve the sale of an estimated 250,000 grenade throwers to West Germany.

A special Cabinet meeting was called to vote on the sale, but it was not expected that opponents of dealing with Germany—the Achduth Avodah and Mafpeh parties—would reverse themselves.

Ben-Gurion said he would try to form a new government without members of the two parties. Without them his government would control only 50 of the 120 seats in Parliament.

The Mafpeh itself has only 40 seats. But if a prime minister resigns, Israeli law permits the president to ask him to remain in office as head of a caretaker government until the next election. That will come in November.

Last Friday the Cabinet approved, apparently by a split vote, the sale of the grenade throwers to the Bonn government. Most of the machines reportedly have been delivered.

Erie Electrical Workers End Three-Month Strike

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Members of Local 613 International Union of Electrical Workers voted unanimously Sunday to end their almost 3-month strike against the Erie Register Co. without a new contract.

Company officials said eligible workers would be recalled to jobs in an "orderly fashion" as promptly as business warrants.

The strike started April 1 when some 450 production workers walked out in a demand for pay increases, seniority rights, insurance and holidays and restrictions on subcontract work to outside firms.

Record Crowd at Chapman Dam

Thousands flocked to water and picnic areas Sunday to beat the 90-degree temperature and the weather which they could do nothing about. Above is a portion of the estimated 11,468 who visited Chapman Dam Sunday. Parking areas at the State Park were completely filled throughout most of the day. Picnic facilities at Crescent Park in Warren also accommodated full houses throughout the day. Low tonight will be a humid 72 with high 80s predicted for Tuesday. — Timesphoto Shattuck.

Probes Continue Into Seven Burglaries Over Weekend

Planning Honeymoon in Bomb Shelter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A couple to wed Sunday will spend a sheltered honeymoon—in an underground bomb shelter—for the greater glory of civil defense and shelter-manufacturers.

Then they'll have a more orthodox wedding trip at the expense of bomb shelter manufacturers who induced them to spend their first two weeks together 10 feet below North Miami.

Kelley Geiger, 25, a University of Miami Russian major, and Nancy Belmyre, 23, a dance band singer, plan to climb down through the hatch of the 8-by-14 foot steel and concrete shelter after their wedding and reception.

Democrats Claim Big Victory in Hawaiian Election

HONOLULU (AP) — Democrats jubilantly claimed today their heavy vote in Hawaii's primary means victory for them in the island's first state elections next month.

They contend that the big Democratic vote was the forerunner of a sweep that would send three of their fold to Congress and elect a Democratic governor and Legislature.

Republicans were quick to answer that GOP candidates ran unopposed in the nominating primary Saturday while Democrats engaged in vote-drawing contests. They said the Democratic outpouring was expected.

Some OP leaders nevertheless conceded that the party would be the underdog in the Aloha State's first election July 28.

Both parties turned to campaigning in the wake of the primary and a simultaneous statehood plebiscite in which Hawaiians voted approval of statehood by a whopping .17 to 1 margin.

The 132,938 yes votes so dwarfed the 7,854 votes against statehood that it exceeded even the most optimistic predictions.

Drownings Claim Lives Of Two Teen-Age Boys

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Drownings claimed the lives of two teen-age boys in different sections of Westmoreland County Sunday.

Frank Bencloski, 16, of Herminie, drowned while swimming in Crab Apple Lake in Sewickley Twp., near Herminie.

The other victim was John Koblunick, 13, of (123 Welser Alley) McKeesport. He drowned while swimming at Kingston Dam near Latrobe.

Warren Manager Receives Head Injuries in Crash

Condition of 28-year-old Bradley Wills, manager of the local Wills Dry Cleaning store, was reported to be satisfactory in Montrose Falls, New York, hospital following an auto collision near Watkins Glen Saturday.

Wills, the son of Howard Wills, owner of the dry cleaning firm, is believed to have a possible fracture of the skull. He was reported to have had a cerebral hemorrhage, also.

Sheriff Maurice Dean of Schuylkill County, N. Y., who investigated the mishap, said Wills was returning to his home at 126 Buffalo street, Jamestown, about 10 p. m. Saturday from the Glen Classic road races at Watkins Glen.

Wills lost control of his car while driving on County Line Road. The vehicle went off the highway on a curve and rolled over. He was alone at the time. He was taken to the hospital by Sheriff Dean.

New Champion Denies Swedish Retirement Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, the new heavyweight boxing champion of the world, denied a Swedish report today that he planned to retire after two more fights.

"I expect to keep fighting for the next 10 years," the 26-year-old Swede said shortly before departing by air for a Florida vacation.

In Goteborg, Dr. Gosta Karlsson, Johansson's personal physician and adviser, said upon arriving from New York that the champion would limit himself to two title defenses and then quit.

Johansson does not wish to risk serious ring injury, the doctor added.

But Johansson quickly spiked retirement talk.

"Why should I stop now that I am on top," he told The Associated Press. "That statement in Goteborg is all wrong. I'll keep fighting for the next 10 years at least."

"I cannot understand why that statement was made," the champion said, referring to Karlsson's comments.

Long predicted he would be elected governor for the fourth time in the Democratic primary next December. He said he would get 60 per cent of the vote as against 30 per cent he got last time.

"If any man in Louisiana is qualified to talk about politics, it's me," Long emphasized.

Long Plans Further Purge of Enemies Along With Wife

Winnfield, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long, refreshed after a weekend at his beloved "Pea Patch Farm," heads across state to Covington today to place himself under a team of psychiatrists.

Long is also extending his political purge, divorcing his wife, planning a special session of the Legislature and starting his campaign for re-election.

"I'm going to get a divorce just as fast as I can," he said of his wife, who twice committed him for psychiatric treatment. Mrs. Long has left the state.

Long plans to remain at Covington until Friday night. Then he will go to Baton Rouge for the first time since his commitment to Southeast Louisiana

MANY BODIES RECOVERED BY RESCUERS

By PERRY MULLEN

MELDRIM, Ga. (AP) — Rescue teams renewed dragging operations in the Ogeechee River today searching for more victims of a freak butane gas explosion that already apparently has claimed 19 lives. Many other persons were burned, at least 10 critically.

The blast occurred about 3:30 Sunday afternoon. Two railroad tanker cars spewed flaming death on some 175 fun-seekers in a recreation area beneath a 30-foot river trestle which the Seaboard Air Line train was crossing.

No one could say whether all bodies had been recovered, but Coroner Harold M. Smith said reports that dozens were unaccounted for were greatly overdrawn.

Smith said at the time he had accounted for 17 dead.

Since then two children died of burns in a Savannah hospital. They were listed as Wayne Smith, 3, and Terry Lane, 9.

A complete casualty list was not available but 14 dead have been identified. Some bodies were so badly burned that identification was difficult.

The railroad said the explosion of one butane tanker set off a second loaded with 10,000 gallons of the cooking and heating fuel. Two trainmen were injured in the blast and the pileup of freight cars near the end of the long train.

The blast turned the Ogeechee River bank into blackened ruins several hundred yards from the trestle. It caught some of the victims in the water, others on the bank. Children, seared by the flames floundered in the river or ran screaming from the spot.

A second but lesser explosion came after rescuers reached the scene near this East Georgia town about 18 miles northwest of Savannah.

Most of the 124 cars in the Seaboard Air Line Railroad freight had cleared the 30-foot high trestle before the crash at 3:30 p.m. None fell in the water, but several piled up on the bank and burned through the night. Some of the cars were telescoped. Flat cars dangled from a 75-foot long break at the end of the 250-yard span.

Seven in Family Reported Victims Of Mass Slaying

STETTLE, Alta. (AP) — The mass slaying of a father, mother and their five children came to light with discovery Sunday of the seven battered bodies at this quiet central Alberta town.

Robert Raymond Cook, 22, son of the slain man, was charged with murder.

The victims were Raymond Cook, 53, a garage mechanic; his wife, Daisy Mae, 37; and their three sons and two daughters ranging in age from 9 to 3.

Police found a blood-stained shotgun stuffed under a mattress in the Cook's neatly kept green and white house, but the bodies were so badly battered investigators could not tell whether the victims had been shot before they were clubbed.

The bodies were found in the garage under a pile of old tires, boxes, blankets and other (Turn To Page Twelve)

Cornplanters Win Top Honors at Legion Meeting

The Cornplanters Drum and Bugle Corps retained their championship of the American Legion 28th District Saturday night at the Legion's convention held in Oil City.

The Cornplanters color guard also walked away with top honors against approximately 20 such units.

Local military and musical dignitaries served as judges for the two-hour long parade. They awarded the Cornplanters 29 points out of a possible 30.

Following the parade the Cornplanters presented a concert accompanied by the tapping of several hundred on-lookers.

Sunday the corps spent several hours braving the heat on Memorial field in preparation for their Class A exhibition at the Cornplanters standstill competition on the 4th of July.

Future appearance dates for the Cornplanters will be Falconer Bugle Holiday, Class A Field Show, July 11; Kittanning Class A Show, July 25th. According to Jack Barr, business manager, the corps will probably be making the jaunt to the State American Legion Convention this year, to bring home a state title to Warren.

CHANCES IN 1,000 THAT NEW PARENTS WILL LIVE TO SEE THEIR CHILD REACH 18

BEST YEARS OF THEIR LIVES—Increased lifespan in today's world has brought another blessing—less chance of orphanhood for new babies. Chart above shows the odds at various ages for a father or mother living to see their child celebrate his 18th birthday. Even at 45, a mother has 985 chances out of a 1,000 that she will live another 18 years. For a father of 50, the figure is 677. Data from Metropolitan Life.

Y.M.C.A. Summer Camp Site Visited By Local Group

Nearly 50 prospective campers and parents journeyed to Camp Cornplanter, site of the Y.M.C.A.'s summer resident camp, on Saturday for an entertaining pre-camp outing. Following a complete inspection tour of the camp which the group made by cabin units, a competitive nature scavenger hunt was held, organized and conducted by Stephen Fogel, a camp counselor.

Immediately preceding the picnic lunch Donald LeLuca, another counselor, conducted the popular "Tug of War," when the 10-year-olds "out-pulled" the 11 and 12-year-olds. Following lunch, the group had a song session. Addison Scholes and Steve Summers led the boys on a fast training and tracking exercise. The boys were divided into cabin units once again for active games before the return trip home.

Mrs. Minnie Vicini, camp nurse for the Y.M.C.A. for the last two summers and head of Health, Safety and Sanitation again this year, was enthusiastic about the rally and the evidence of preparations of facilities for the 1959 season.

Parents agreed with "Y" officials that the excursion was a hearty success and amply fulfilled its purpose of acquiring prospective campers and parents with camp facilities and program. The rally also gave excellent training to the entire staff under actual camp conditions, as well as providing counselors with first-hand experience of working with the campers in advance of the camp season.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Scenes I'd like to see in television Westerns — but I'll never live long enough:
Gunsmoke—Matt Dillon walks deliberately down the dusty street while the passersby rush into buildings for shelter. The lean, dark man a block away walks toward Matt just as deliberately. Their firing hands hover a few inches from the holsters.
The lean, dark man draws and two shots are fired simultaneously.
"Dagnabbit," Matt yells. His pistol caught in the holster and he has wounded himself in the calf. The L. D. man, whose shot went through the neck of a nearby mule, laughs and rides out of town.
Doc hurries out to treat Matt while Chester says, "Doggone it, Mister Dillon, yore jest goin' to have to practice more on that firin' range."
Have Gun, Will Travel — The sleekly dressed Paladin is enjoying a liqueur while eavesdropping on talk at the next table in the hotel bar. A courier is telling a beautiful young lady that her father has died and the foreman has produced a phony will and has taken over the ranch.
Paladin saunters to her table and offers his card. "Perhaps I could be of service," he smiles.
The beautiful young lady tears his card into small bits and throws them in his face. "You take care of your business and I'll take care of mine," she snaps.
Wagon Train — A scout brings doleful news back to the grizzled old wagonmaster. There are Indians on both sides of the canyon dead ahead. The wagonmaster shakes his head and asks about the route over the mountains.
"We might make it through, though we'd probably lose a few wagons," the scout says. "And we're getting low on water. All those cholera patients have been drinkin' more'n their share."
The wagonmaster peers down toward the canyon, where the Indians are chattering back and forth with smoke. Then he gazes up at the snow-clad sierras.
"Only a fool would try to make it through," he said. "Pass the word: We're heading back to St. Joe."

Jaycee Queen Contestant

From Irvine comes 18-year-old Myrna Blum to join the parade of beauty at the 1959 Miss Warren County pageant next Friday night on the front lawn of Beatty School. The attractive finalist is a June graduate of Youngsville High School where she played an energetic role in many school activities.
She was a member of the Dance Club and the Girls Athletic Club and also performed as a majorette with the Youngsville High School Band. Myrna spent the first three years of her high school career in the academic course but switched to the business course in her senior year. In the fall this Celebration Queen contender will attend the Weaver Airline School in Kansas City, Mo. preparatory to becoming a hostess for one of the major domestic airlines. Myrna aspires to an airborne career despite the fact that she has yet to take her first airplane ride.
Miss Blum will devote the summer to completing a correspondence course administered by the Weaver School. One final note—Myrna comes from the largest family of any of the finalists. She is the youngest child in a family that includes four older brothers and two older sisters.

TAX REMINDER
Acting District Director of Internal Revenue, C. L. Trowbridge, today reminded taxpayers who are liable for Special Occupational Tax Stamps that applications, with payment of the tax due, are required to be filed on or before July 1, 1959. Taxpayers no longer have until the end of the month of July to file applications and pay the tax, as was the case in prior years. Applications filed on and after July 1 will be subject to penalties and interest. File now and avoid that last minute rush.

SYLVANIA REMINDER
Notice has been received that the executive offices of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., effective today are located in the General Telephone Building, 730 Third Avenue, New York 17, N.Y. Remaining at Sylvania offices at 1740 Broadway, New York 19, N.Y., will be Sylvania International Various sales departments, the Advertising Department, the Marketing Research Department. Telephone number at both locations — JUDSON 6-2424.

Officer

Clarence O. Swanson, above, was elected vice president of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants at the annual meeting at Pocono Manor. A senior partner of the firm of Swanson, Glass and Coates, he will be speaker at the fifth accounting study conference at Penn State this August. He lives at 416 Market street.

Strip Teaser To Entertain Lions In Michigan City

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — Strip teaser Libby Jones says she has just the thing to pep up attendance at the local Lions Club. She's going to give a talk about her specialty.
Club officials came up with the idea of making Miss Jones a guest speaker as a "summer stimulant" for sagging attendance.
"They'll like what I have to say," cooed the willowy blonde who plans to talk about burlesque, which she says is as American as the cowboy.
Miss Jones, who measures 36-26-36, says she will discuss burlesque's sociological and psychological aspects at next Monday's weekly Lions luncheon meeting.
The burlesque star, who claims to have a degree in English literature from the University of Washington, says she is serious about her specialty.
"I want to entertain—not just take my clothes off," commented William Laiten, club official who asked her to speak. "We have fellows here with a variety of tastes. Some like fishing, golf and skiing. We try to select the speakers with appeal to most interests."

NOTICE
NOTICE is hereby given that on June 30, 1959 these will be filed in the Office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and in the Office of the Prothonotary of Warren County the application of Nahum Levinson, Indiana, Pa., Bert Levinson and Jacob Levinson, Warren, Pa., and David Luxenberg, Indiana, Pa., for registration of the fictitious name of LEVINSON BROTHERS, located at 110-112 Liberty Street, Warren, Pa.

It was the last round of a duplicate and everyone was trying for a top score. East started out with his three club bid and if South had passed he could have acquired his top score the easy way.
North would double for take-out but South would leave it in and open a spade. Eventually East would be down four tricks.
South got his top the hard way. He bid three hearts and after North jumped to five South went on to the slam.
He had no play at all for it with a spade opening but West opened the ten of clubs. South still had no play but with West's help he made the hand.
He won the first trick and laid down the jack of hearts. Without stopping to think West blindly followed the rule of cover an honor with an honor and went up with the king. Now dummy's ace dropped the king and queen together and after drawing the rest of the trumps South went after the diamonds and established dummy's last diamond to provide a discard for his losing club.
All in all a hand that should qualify as worst and luckiest of the year.

ROTARY INAUGURATION DAY
This was inauguration day for the Warren Rotary Club, with the installation of William R. Walker, of Walker Creamery Products Co., succeeding President Frank W. Perrin in that important office for the 40th anniversary year of the organization.
Felicitations are extended both the local Rotarians and Mr. Walker who has an excellent background to head up the veteran service club organization. As president of the Walker Co., past President of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, Past Commander of the American Legion and an active board member of such organizations as the Red Cross and Warren County Motor Club, along with his interest in welfare and fraternal organizations, the new president is well qualified to continue the programs and policies that have earned for Warren Rotary a reputation of being one of the most outstanding in the state.

WELCOME RELIEF
A move felt widely to be long overdue now seems close to reality with Senate approval of repeal of the 10 per cent Federal tax on passenger travel.
Though this tax presently applies to tickets sold for all travel within the United States, the most important beneficiary of the change will be the nation's hard-pressed railroads. They obviously need still other relief, but anything which serves to reduce rail travel costs to the passenger is a hopeful sign.
The 10 per cent tax was imposed during World War II, at a time when Congress was searching everywhere for sure sources of revenue to finance huge war costs.
It was never intended to be permanent. But like so many things in government, once established it was hard to alter.
Now that the Senate has finally acted, The House ought quickly to follow suit.

FLOATING THROUGH LIFE
The howls set-up over the Weather Bureau's use of the phrase "discomfort index," and its abandonment of the term, tell a good deal about the kind of life we lead in the mid-20th century.
By all means, the protesters appear to be saying, let's not acknowledge the existence of anything so unpleasant as discomfort. We may feel it, but it isn't nice to talk about it.
The complaints fit. This is the age when everything has to be fun, to be easier, softer, pleasanter, milder. Don't walk if you can ride. Don't push something if you can get it self-propelled.
Just float through life in a cocoon, feeling no pain. It any should by mischance intrude upon your consciousness, call it something else and maybe it will go away.

WORLD TODAY

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The President's Cabinet committee on price stability for economic growth may serve an economic purpose. It also has a very useful political value for the Republican party.
This group, appointed by President Eisenhower last Jan. 31, produced a report Sunday after months of meditation. It cautioned against the dangers of inflation and made some recommendations for fighting it.
What it proposed was what Eisenhower himself already had proposed to Congress earlier in the year.
This was hardly unusual. The President's committee, made up of his own hand-picked, right-hand men, would hardly have made recommendations contrary to his own.
The group, headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is composed of members of his Cabinet, plus his top economic adviser Raymond J. Saulnier, plus one outside economist, W. Allen Wallis.
Wallis himself described the report as "no bombshell." He is dean of the Business School of the University of Chicago and is the Cabinet committee's executive director.
It is questionable whether any proposal by this group could be considered as objective and nonpolitical as recommendations by a committee of outside economists.
Eisenhower, ever since the 1958 election campaign in which the Democrats in Congress won one of their biggest victories, has hammered away at the dangers of inflation and big spending that would unbalance the budget.
He resumed the theme the day after the elections and has pursued it steadily. At the beginning of this Congress the Democrats sounded as if they contemplated

Here and There
Here's another of those nostalgic articles from the editorial column of The New York Herald: Summer begins this evening, on the charts at least; and after last week's weather it's high time. Farmers back in the hills say they never saw such June weather. Who ever heard of having to wear a winter jacket while you were trying to make hay? And up in Vermont and New Hampshire they even had snow. Not even the Old Farmer's Almanac foresaw that. But the "hot" full moon occurred last night and the summer solstice arrives tonight. July is just around the corner. From here on the daylight will gradually begin to shorten again and in another month we will have lost almost half an hour to the darkness. It's one of those peculiarities of nature that brings what we know as the height of summer at the time when the days begin to lean toward autumn. But the trees know the season, and so do most of the wild plants. They did their hurrying early, achieved most of their season's growth, and put out their energy traps, those green leaves, in time to catch all the sunlight available. From now on their goal is maturity and insurance for the winter months. The birds know it, and the animals who do their hatching and birthing for the most part before the solstice. Summer for them, too, is a time of maturing of preparation for the days to come. So here comes summer, in the lexicon of man, signified by a solstice that actually is a forecast of autumn. Summer, the ripening berry, the fledgling spreading its wings, the farmer's hay in the mow. And the rest of us wondering how it's possible that the year is already almost half gone. What happened to spring? What happened to June, for that matter?
In a personal note accompanying the writeup about the annual Warren County Picnic held recently in Sycamore Park, Glen Echo, Section 2, California, our old friend Louis J. Geigerich, 12471 Loraleen street, Garden Grove, Calif., pens the following of general interest to all friends of the family in the Warren area: "Dear Ed—Guess we picked a bad day, Father's Day, for our annual get-together; thought for a while that

Long Trail Is A-Winding To Postmaster Confirmation
By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—United States Post Office Department headquarters here maintains with a straight face that it has no records of political affiliations of the 931 local postmaster appointments now awaiting confirmation by the Senate.
At the Senate Post Office Committee—now under Democratic majority control—it is considered axiomatic that if the Eisenhower administration can find an eligible Republican to appoint as a postmaster, he'll get the nomination in preference to a Democrat. And it is generally assumed that the GOP wants to get as many Republican postmasters in office as it can, before the 1960 election.
THE OTHER SIDE OF THIS PICTURE is that Republican officials are now beginning to charge openly that Democratic senators are holding up confirmation of nearly 1,000 Eisenhower postmaster appointments for purely political reasons.
The specific Republican charge is that Democrats are trying to stall confirmation of Eisenhower appointees in the hope that vacancies can be filled by Democrats in '61.
This was the way it was done in the good old days, when postmaster appointments were considered fair political patronage for whatever party was in power.
But in recent years there has been some attempt to clean this up by selecting postmasters on a merit basis, even though they're still appointed by the President with Senate confirmation.
There are two routes by which candidates for postmasterships are selected. The first is by a noncompetitive examination for classified employees of the Postal Service. This gives career employees a chance to reach the top by sheer ability.
The second type of selection is by competitive examination conducted by U.S. Civil Service Commission. The three examinees making the highest grades are certified to the Post Office Department as qualified for postmasterships.
The postmaster general then selects any one of the three he wants to and recommends his appointment to the President, who then sends the nomination to Congress.
AFTER CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION clearance, the nomination is sent to the two senators from the state in which the nominee would serve as postmaster if confirmed.
The information is put on a card for both senators to okay and sign if they approve. But if either or both of them don't approve, the card is just kept by the objecting senator and that's the last ever heard of it. It's dead.
It is never known till the end of a session of Congress, every two years, how many appointees get this Senatorial pocket veto. But since January, 1953, President Eisenhower has sent to the Senate, 8,846 nominations for postmaster. Of these, only 6,908 have been confirmed.
OF THE 1,938 DIFFERENCE, 136 nominations were withdrawn and new names submitted. A total of 931 are now pending before the Senate. The others were victims of political or personal objections used to defeat the so-called merit system.
The Senate Post Office Committee meets in executive session after hearing any evidence against an appointee from his rivals or opponents. If the Committee votes to approve a nominee, the full Senate usually accepts this recommendation.

Radio and TV
By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—There are still more radio sets than television receivers in this nation, and CBS thinks that radio listeners might like to mix a little laughter into a pretty steady diet of five minute newscasts, many minutes of record playing and very occasional interview shows.
Thus, tonight at 7:00 p.m. EDT, the network inaugurates a daily hour of comedy—well, 50 minutes because there a couple of newscasts in there, too. Anyway, the biffs will begin with 10 minutes of good, gray Amos 'n Andy, followed by Andy Griffith (of No Time for Sergeants and Destry Rides) dipping into such important matters as girl-watching in North Carolina and matching names with jobs. Then there will be five nostalgic minutes with Burns and Allen, and finally—in the old Ed Murrow news spot—Bob and Ray offering such products as a "worry-free old age kit" to trusting consumers.
It all sounds like a pleasant change on a warm evening.
Bob Hope recently remarked that radio was the easiest of all the show business forms, and television the hardest. Arthur Godfrey obviously concurs, with his recent decision to skip Person to Person and limit his next season's broadcasting activity to his daily radio show and perhaps four evening television specials. Person to Person, if no one else can be found to replace adequately the vacationing Edward R. Murrow, will be sorely missed from CBS' fall lineup.

present time. In Allegheny last week the attraction, said to be the largest motorized carnival on wheels, will be playing Little Valley, N.Y., the last week in August. Marty and the carnival owner, W. O. "Bill" Page, were inspecting prospective lots in the hopes that they could bring the Shows here next year. It will be interesting to know how they fared during this tour of the area.

How to Keep Well
By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen
(© 1958: By The Chicago Tribune)
To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.
THE COOLING MECHANISM OF THE BODY
It is quite a job for the body to maintain the normal temperature of 98.6 degrees F. when the thermometer out of doors exceeds 100 degrees Fahrenheit. For cooling purposes, a considerable portion of the circulating blood must be directed into the vessels of the skin. This means extra work for the heart and may explain why torrid weather is hard on the elderly and those with cardiac disease.
In addition, the sweat glands are thrown into high gear and the more perspiration that evaporates from the surface, the cooler the body becomes. A breeze helps considerably by hastening the evaporating process. Light clothing allows more circulation of air currents. Dry air absorbs more moisture, thus aiding the cooling process. This explains why the heat of Arizona is better tolerated than the muggy air of the tropics.
Dr. Van Dellen will send a leaflet on perspiration by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies letter.
Sweat consists of water and salt. Those who perspire profusely may lose several quarts of water. Dehydration occurs unless the fluids is replaced. The salt loss parallels the fluid loss.
But in those who are acclimated to the heat, the body conserves its salt supply by curtailing the amount that escapes through the sweat glands. This explains why individuals who are accustomed to hot weather are able to tolerate prolonged exposure without going into heat exhaustion.
Exercise increases body temperature and perspiration. So does direct exposure to the sun. Eating heavy foods adds to the discomfort because it has the same effect as adding fuel to the furnace.
This information can be of practical value for those who cannot sit all day in an air conditioned room. Avoid the direct rays of the sun, dress lightly, eat sensibly, and replace fluid loss with cool water. Overexertion is taboo unless acclimated to the heat. Use a fan to generate air currents when there is no breeze.
TOMORROW: The well cared for older.
NERVOUS AFTER OPERATIONS
Mrs. W. writes: A hysterectomy and a gall bladder operation have left me with a nervous stomach and heart. How can these disorders be remedied?
REPLY
Nervousness is not easy to cure. You need more help than a few suggestions on acquiring equanimity. Meanwhile, stay calm and cheerful, keep busy, and avoid thinking about your adversities.
CAFFEINE AND TENSION
P. L. writes: Why is coffee bad for glaucoma?
REPLY
It increases tension. In glaucoma, the outflow of fluid in the eye is blocked, and thus tension on the eyeballs is increased. Anything that dilates the pupils and adds to this tension ought to be avoided. These factors include emotional upsets, tight collars, watching movies or TV in the dark, and overindulgence in coffee.
DENTURES AND SNEEZING
A. P. writes: Could a loose upper plate be connected with excessive sneezing? I have sneezed as many as 48 times in one day.
REPLY
No, but don't lose that loose plate. Frequent sneezing usually stems from congestion in the nose resulting from allergy or vasomotor rhinitis.
DANCER'S SPAN
W. G. writes: Is it true that ballet dancers do not have the average life span?
REPLY
There is no reason why the expectancy should be any different in ballet dancers from that of other types of dancers and athletes.

Business Mirror
By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Do the biggest companies fare better in bad times than the small ones? Most persons probably think so. Certainly the giants seem to have the better staying power. And their rebound in good times is likely to be more impressive.
But records of the biggest corporations during 1958—year both of recession and recovery—show their sales and profits shrank by a greater percentage than the average and by more than the smallest. The big boys had farther to fall, and many of them tumbled quite a way down the slope.
Also, none of the 10 industrial firms with the largest sales and profits was among the 10 companies with highest return on invested capital or with highest sales per dollar of invested capital, and only two were among the top 10 in return on sales.
Revenues of the 50 biggest industrial firms fell 8.2 per cent in 1958 from 1957 and net profits were off 20.8 per cent. By comparison, sales of the 500 largest industrial firms were down 6.1 per cent and profits off 17.8 per cent, while all other industrial firms showed a combined decline in sales of 3.6 per cent, although profits slipped 20 per cent.
Compiling these figures, Fortune magazine asks and answers this question: "Is corporate bigness a moderating force during major swings in the economy? The answer, apparently, is no."
In profits the top 10 industrial firms, in order: General Motors, Jersey Standard Oil, Du Pont, Gulf Oil, Texaco, U.S. Steel, California Standard Oil, General Electric, Socony Mobil Oil, and Bethlehem Steel. But if communications are included, American Telephone & Telegraph would top GM.
In sales the top 10 industrial firms, in order: GM, Jersey Standard, Ford, GE, U.S. Steel, Socony Mobil, Gulf, Swift, Texaco and Western Electric. Again, if communications and merchandizing firms are included, A.T.&T. would be third, A & P fourth, and Sears, Roebuck eighth.
In assets A.T.&T. outruns the industrial firms. The top 10 of the latter alone, in order: Jersey Standard, GM, U.S. Steel, Gulf, Socony Mobil, Texaco, GE, Du Pont, Indiana Standard Oil and California Standard Oil.
By adding merchandizing and communication companies to industrial firms listed on its board, the New York Stock Exchange reports that 46 firms in 1958 had sales of one billion dollars or more. Two on this list in 1957 fell off, but two additions balanced it out.
Looking at the top 500 industrial firms, Fortune finds three that increased net profits more than fourfold last year (Morrill, Oliver Corp., and Solar Aircraft). Fifty gained by 25 per cent or more. Higher sales were reported by 216.
Industrial groups doing particularly well last year were: Food, up 4.1 per cent in sales and 8.2 per cent in profits; and tobacco, up 10.2 per cent in sales and 20.7 per cent in profits.
Auto, aircraft and shipbuilding companies taken as a group tumbled the most in profits, down 37.3 per cent, with sales off 13.9 per cent. Metal manufacturers as a group were off 22.3 per cent in profits and 16.5 per cent in sales.
The 1958 recession period hit the biggest of all, in sharp contrast to 1957, mostly a boom year, when the 500 biggest gained more than did smaller firms, and the 50 giants did the best of all.

Silver Anniversary of Portland Minister and Wife Is of Interest

Of interest to many friends in this area is the report of an event held recently in Portland, N. Y., when the pastor of the Congregational church, the Rev. F. R. Brooks, and his wife were honored for their 25th wedding anniversary.

The wedding vows were renewed and rings exchanged at 2:30 before a company of about 80 friends and relatives. Rev. E. C. Platz, of Hartford, a close friend of the Brooks' family, conducted the service.

A reception followed in the church parlors, with Mrs. Glenn Hegner, of Union City, sister of Rev. Brooks, in charge of the guest book in the afternoon and Lorraine Reardon, of Brocton, in the evening.

Aides included Mrs. Harold Gross, of Warren; Mrs. Claude Haller, of Union City; Mrs. Homer Seelye, of Westfield; Mr. and Mrs. William Reardon, of Brocton; Mrs. Cora Mather, of Batavia; Mrs. Bradley Anderson, of Mrs. Joseph Hindman, of Mrs. Charles Brown, of Mrs. Raymond Thayer, of Mrs. James Warnshus, of Portland.

The former Hazel Brooks Keller and Raymond Brooks were united in marriage on June 24, 1934 in the Union City Evangelical United Brethren church by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Strong. Those present at the ceremony 25 years ago also present Sunday were Chester Brooks, Albion, and daughter, Mrs. Inez Stratton, uncle and cousin of Rev. Brooks; LaRue Thomas, Wesleyville, and Mrs. Glenn Hegner, Union City, nephew and sister of Rev. Brooks.

The beautiful three-tier wedding cake was made and decorated by a cousin of Mrs. Brooks; Mrs. Claude Haller, of Union City. The honored couple received several beautiful and useful gifts, including a blue and silver tea set containing "tea bags of green back tea".

Friends and relatives attended from Warren, Union City, Wesleyville, Albion, Batavia, Sinclairville, Dewittville, Greenhurst, Hartfield, Ashville, Westfield, Brocton, Dunkirk and Fredonia.

Rev. Brooks preached his farewell sermon in the Portland church last Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Brooks and three children, Howard, Carl and Carol Ann, are leaving for Woodward, Okla., where Rev. Brooks will be pastor of the United Brethren church. A son, Walter, and two grandchildren reside at Shrewsbury, N. J.

SUGAR GROVE — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richmond, former local residents now living in Daytona Beach, Fla., were honored Saturday afternoon and evening, June 20, with an open house arranged to celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

The affair was held at the couple's former home, present home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sweeney, and four children, son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Paterniti, and three sons, of Daytona Beach, assisting. The home was beautifully decorated with large bouquets of mountain laurel and red and white peonies.

The honored couple received 160 guests, Mrs. Richmond wearing a sheer aqua print with a corsage of red baby roses. Mr. Richmond was favored with a red and white carnation boutonniere for the occasion, both being gifts from their daughters.

The attractive buffet table featured two ruby and white tea sets, sent to the sisters from Japan by the couple's only son, Edward Richmond, killed in Korea in 1951; also a four-tier wedding cake and a lovely bowl of red roses and white mums, a gift from Mr. Richmond's cousin.

GUEST SPEAKER TELLS OF AFRICA The Rev. Richard Miller, missionary-guest speaker at Pennsylvania Avenue Baptist church Sunday, stirred his listeners with a graphic description of developments in Liberia, Africa, where he and his wife have served for 20 years under Baptist Mid-Missions.

The Millers and their co-workers use small airplanes now to reach the interior and to minister to converts to Christianity. "Formerly we walked three days to reach areas we now reach in 20 minutes," said the speaker. Pictures shown demonstrated great changes taking place in the land. Commenting on this, Rev. Miller said:

"The people of Liberia have asked for the material blessings of civilization and are getting them. The tragedy lies in the fact they now dress modern, build modern, live modern, but continue in their old jungle superstitions." Rich ore mines are quickly adding to the wealth of the country, he stated.

A love offering was received for the guest speaker, who, with his wife and four college-age children, lives temporarily in Corry.

But what it promised the committee would look into in later reports.

For instance, it will explore proposals to use the federal government's antitrust powers against monopolies in both labor and management, as well as the breaking down of wage bargaining into smaller units.

The committee mentioned other ideas it will examine, too, some of which may make campaign issues in the 1960 elections when, or so it seems now, Nixon will be a sturdy contender.

Potter and Downey Wedding in Latrobe

At 11:00 a.m. June 27 in the Methodist church at Sewickley, Pa., Dr. James Carroway officiated for an informal ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Ada A. Downey, daughter of Mrs. May Downey of 333 High street, Youngsville, and Lewis M. Potter, of Latrobe.

Wedding music was provided by the church organist, playing "At Dawning," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride selected periwinkle blue lace and summer sheer over taffeta, complemented by white accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids and lily of the valley.

Her matron of honor and only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Orpha Look, Youngsville, who wore a gray and orchid sheer, with corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

The newlyweds left immediately for a two-week trip through Virginia and to points south and will be at home to friends after July 10 at 627 Walnut street, Latrobe.

The bride is a teacher in Latrobe public schools; Mr. Potter is employed as purchasing agent for Vanadium Alloys Steel Company.

Pre-nuptial events were given by Goodwill Bible Class of Latrobe and Mrs. Ann Curto, of that city; a luncheon by Miss Virginia Betner, of that city; showers by Mrs. May Downey, Mrs. Orpha Look, and Mrs. Glen Patchen, Youngsville.

matter of FACT

As a member of Parliament, James Oglethorpe was moved by the suffering of the people in the debtor's prison in London. He appealed to King George II for aid in America where he might help them to a better life. A charter and 10,000 pounds were granted by Parliament in 1733, Oglethorpe and his little band landed at what is now Savannah, Ga. He thought that people would be happier if there were neither rich nor poor, so he gave everyone an equal share of the land.

Club Advocates 60-M.P.H. Limit On Open Roads

Bradford Era: The McKean County Motor Club said last week it is urging Commonwealth Highways Secretary Park H. Martin to raise the general passenger speed limit in Pennsylvania from 50 to 60 miles an hour.

The recommendation was one of three in the form of resolutions adopted at this week's directors' dinner meeting in the Motor Club's 93 Congress street offices.

The motor club explained it thinks the usual 50-miles-an-hour limit is "unrealistic and inadequate in light of the good construction and width of many of our highways and the facility of motor vehicles, particularly on operation of our present-day four-lane highways."

Detailing its suggestion, the Motor Club said it wants Mr. Martin to establish the 60-mile limit on state highways "outside of business and residential districts," where conditions "made it safe."

The upped limit was suggested, provided Mr. Martin sets up a 65-mile-an-hour speed limit for passenger vehicles on all four-lane highways outside of business and residential sections where it will be safe. The present top limit on such roads is 60 miles an hour.

The Highway Department has widened and resurfaced part of Rt. 6 in Mt. Jewett, and is doing the same thing on the stretch of the same highway from Hazel Hurst "to within 1,700 feet" of the Mt. Jewett section, according to the motor club.

The second resolution asks the Highway Department to join the two improved sections of Rt. 6 with the same kind of widened and resurfaced roadway.

The third resolution requests the department to make "rigid and detailed" checks of new road work before accepting it, and to see that materials used are able "to withstand the abuse of traffic and the extreme winter weather conditions experienced in northern Pennsylvania." The Motor Club contends that "some materials used in new construction and repair of highways" seem unable to stand up to the combination of heavy traffic and winter weather.

Veterans News

Q. I have a $10,000 World War II GI insurance policy. I am thinking of adding VA's total disability rider to the policy, which would pay me $100 a month if I become disabled for six months or more so I could not work. Would I have to go on paying the policy premiums to ensure my family would be protected?

A. No. As long as you qualify for the disability payments, your payment of premiums would be waived, and there would be no reduction of the protection your family now has under the policy.

Q. I have a nonservice-connected disability for which my doctor recommends hospitalization and treatment. Under what conditions may I be admitted to a VA hospital?

A. The law provides that veterans of any war with nonservice-connected disabilities for which hospitalization is necessary may be admitted only if they state under oath they are financially unable to pay hospital charges elsewhere, and if beds are available.

Q. I need to sell my GI house and move to another city. Does the buyer of the house have to be a veteran?

A. No. So far as VA is concerned, the new buyer may be either a veteran or a non-veteran. However, if you, the seller, are to be released from liability to the VA, the new buyer must be willing to assume liability for your loan, if there is an unpaid balance, and satisfy VA he is a good credit risk.

Q. I plan to start school this fall, under the Korean GI Bill. How soon after the school year begins can I expect my first allowance check from VA?

A. There is a waiting period of approximately two months before the first school allowance check arrives. VA is not permitted to mail you a check until after it has received proof that you have completed the month of school for which you are to be paid. Then, VA is allowed 20 days after that to process your school attendance certificate and get the first check into the mail. After the initial necessary delay checks will arrive regularly for each month of certified school attendance.

The Mature Parent

It Pays to Be a 'Softie' Sometimes With Children

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Promptly upon arriving at the treatment center for delinquent boys he broke a number of windows.

The director told him that he'd have to pay for the damage. Exploding, the 10-year-old newcomer yelled, "I thought you didn't punish kids here! Why don't you pay for the windows? Why don't you make the city pay for them?"

"Because the city didn't break them," social worker Ernst Papenek said mildly. "I didn't break them. You did. So out of the allowance we give you here, we'll take 25 cents a week until your debt is paid."

For six weeks the deductions were made. In the seventh the director called the boy. He said, "Danny, we figure it will take you several years to finish paying for those broken windows. For this money you could buy other things, candy, sodas, presents for people you like. So we want to help you with your debt. After you've paid on it for two more weeks, we will pay the rest."

The tough kid, who had flouted the discipline of 27 other agencies, burst into tears.

It isn't just tough children who respond when we show appreciation of their acceptance of penalty.

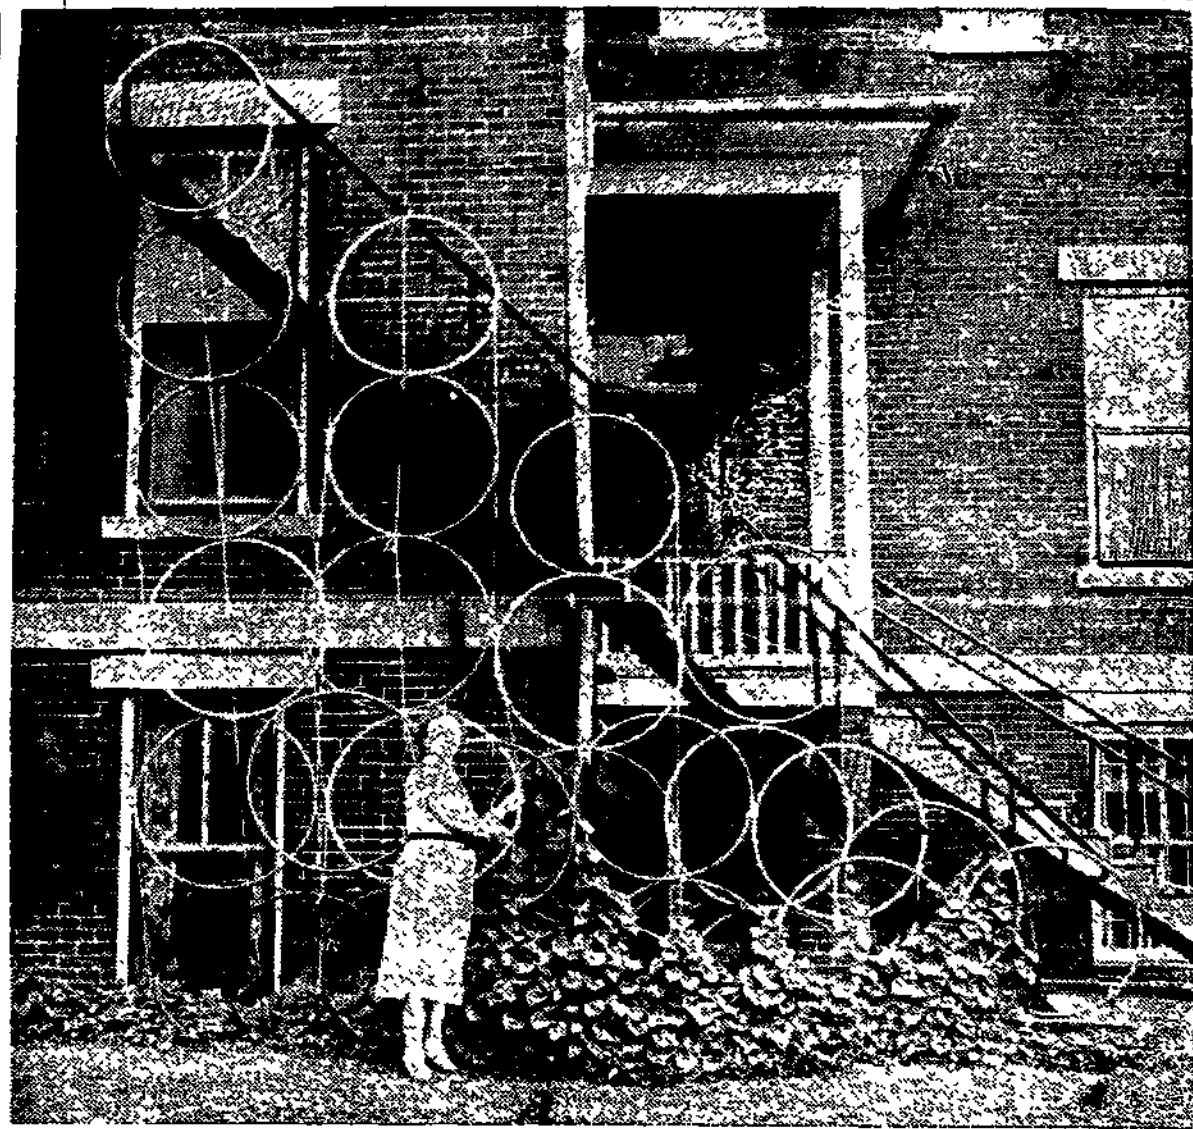

One day your Jimmy will be so late getting home from a friend's house that you'll forbid him to visit the friend for a week. On the fifth day when he has demonstrated his acceptance of his misbehavior's consequences, you can make the lesson unforgettable by quietly arranging for the friend to come and visit Jimmy.

Or your Betty sneaking out of the house in her new white shoes will get far on them and you'll say, "Well, that's how you'll have to wear them to Sunday school now." After several Sundays, she, like Danny, may burst into tears when you bring the shoes back from the cobbler's cleaned and beautiful again.

We are not "softies" to show appreciation of a child's acceptance of consequences. In prisons, we reduce the sentences we have imposed on grown-up offenders for "good behavior"—for their acceptance of the consequences of their poor decisions.

The goal of discipline is not suffering but the child's ability to take the consequences of his own actions.

Bill Walker Takes Over as President of Rotary Club

William R. Walker, of the Walker Creamery Products Co., was installed the 40th president of the Warren Rotary Club at its regular meeting held today noon. At the same time members were reminded that the club will observe its 40th anniversary during the term of the new executive—the actual date falling on December 1, 1959.

Mr. Walker is well qualified for the office having joined the club in 1952 and he has been a member of its board of directors for the past five years. He has been active on many of its committees and has attended many of its district conventions. He and Mrs. Walker have just returned from the International Convention of Rotary Clubs held in New York City.

He is a graduate of Penn State University and is president of Walker Creamery Products; Past-President of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce; Past Commander of American Legion; member of Board of Governors, Warren Motor Club; member of the board of directors Red Cross; member of the Warren board of directors at Warren General Hospital; members of the Conewango Valley Country Club, and member of the Conewango Club.

Among the officers installed at the meeting today were: Neil Culbertson, vice-president; Dan Walton, secretary; Neil Paterson, treasurer; Beecher Rutledge, sergeant at arms and Julius L. Thorn, "COG" Editor.

Frank W. Perrin, retiring president, gave the report of his successful year. In his report he called attention to the fact that the Club had a growth in membership and that the attendance record has been very good. The average attendance for the 11 months was 83.84%. Mr. Perrin called attention to the fact that the Warren Club had eight persons attending the International Convention in New York.

Among activities and programs sponsored or participated in were the following: Youth Week, Sponsor of a girl to Girl Scout camp; Crippled Children's Program; Y-Inter Service Club Olympics; Inter-Club meeting with Kane, Marienville, and Sheffield; Warren County Probation Association, Scholarship awards, and several International programs.

In conclusion, Mr. Perrin thanked the various members of the Club, the officers and Committee chairman for their splendid co-operation during the year and pledged full support to the administration of the incoming president.

Wool Growers of Warren County To Receive 70.3%

Wool growers of Warren County will receive a payment of 70.3 cents for each dollar's worth of shorn wool marketed during the 1958 marketing year, Chairman N. E. Dodd of the Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

The payment rate represents the percentage necessary to bring the national average price of shorn wool for the year ending last March up to the established national incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be 1.02 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to maintain the normal practice of marketing lambs with the wool on, rather than shearing them to obtain the shorn wool payment.

The 1958 wool payment rate is the highest in the four years the program has been in operation, Chairman Dodd said. This is the result of relatively low prices received for wool in the market last year. For 1955, the first year of the program, the shorn wool incentive payment rate was 44.9 percent; for 1956, it was 40 percent; and for 1957, 15.5 percent.

County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices expect to begin making the 1958 wool payments soon to growers who filed applications by April 30, 1959. The payments are for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958 and March 31, 1959.

Last Insect Control Meetings in Forest Co.

Two insect control meetings will be held in Forest County on Wednesday, July 1, for home owners and gardeners according to an announcement from County Agent Russell M. Smith.

The afternoon meeting will be held at 2:00 o'clock in the garden of John Shippe near Marienville. In case of rain the meeting will take place in Shippe's shop.

For people of the western Forest county area, the meeting will be in Tionesta at 8:00 p.m. in the garden of Albert Childs. If it rains, the meeting will be in the Fire Hall nearby.

Lloyd Adams, extension entomologist of The Pennsylvania State University will have on display the common insects that attack flowers and vegetables. Control measures will be given for these pests as well as any others that may be giving trouble.

CORRY HARD HIT
Corry Journal (Friday): Both Spring Creek and Columbus firemen jumped into the breach yesterday as Corry's fire department was experiencing its busiest day in many years. Corry Civil Defense men and equipment also moved in as did every available piece of pumping equipment in the city as Mayor J. Fred Kinley proclaimed a state of emergency which lasted for about three hours. While it is still too early to obtain estimates of overall storm damage, preliminary estimates ran well into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Swamped with so many calls that it was impossible to record them, Corry's fire department made at least 15 emergency calls stemming from the storm which dumped nearly three inches of water here. Probably the largest single effort went into the work at the swamped Raymond division plant where motors, boilers, machines and employees' cars took the brunt of the beating. In addition to local fire apparatus on the scene, help was volunteered by civil defense and Columbus pumps. In another area a Corry Water Supply pump was put into action to stave off water damage in the basement of Connie's Supperette, where despite quick action, hundreds of dollars worth of supplies and foodstuffs were lost. During the flurry of activity all Corry fire equipment was in action except Engine 3, which remained in the No. 1 station in case of a fire call.

DEATH CHANGES PLANS
An employee of the Oil Well Supply Company in Oil City was scheduled to retire yesterday and leave for his new home in Florida. He collapsed and died shortly after noon. Clarence R. Palmer, 64, of Oil City suffered an apparent heart attack and was pronounced dead arrival at Oil City Hospital. Mrs. Palmer is already in Sarasota, Fla.

Tionesta Bridge Undergoes Badly Needed Repairs

TIONESTA, June 26 — The bridge spanning the Allegheny River at Tionesta is undergoing badly-needed repairs and may have to be closed to traffic.

Work was started immediately on the old bridge after it was learned the I-beams had rusted and dropped two and one-half inches. An engineer for the State Highways Department inspected the bridge yesterday. The engineer reportedly expressed the opinion the structure was in "bad shape."

A maximum weight limit of 10 tons, including trucks and their loads, was established for the bridge until it is repaired. Workmen were doing welding work on the bridge today, and it is expected an attempt will be made to jack up the structure tomorrow.

The bridge must be jacked up before the men can weld the steel work together again. Traffic was limited to one lane.

A night watchman has been stationed at the bridge to keep a check on it and to prevent trucks and other vehicles with more than 10 tons gross weight from crossing the span.

A number of Tionesta residents are stirred up about the damaged bridge, since residents have been pushing for something to be done about it for some time now.

One resident reported that one side of the bridge appears to have caved in. The weakened, rusted I-beams were discovered while some floor boards were being replaced this week. One side of the structure was torn up to get at the damage.

Flares lit up the approaches to the bridge Friday night.

On May 29 completed plans for a new bridge across the Allegheny were submitted to Secretary of Highways Park H. Martin for review and checking.

Celebration Notes!

The standstill Drum Corps Competition scheduled for 3:00 p. m. on the afternoon of the 4th of July promises an "extra added attraction" of unusual interest. Jack Barr, Business Manager of Warren Complainers which is sponsoring the competition in cooperation with the Jaycees, announced that the Complainers will present their marching and maneuvering drill for the first time. The Complainers are entering field competition for the first time this year as a Class "A" Corps and area Drum Corps fans will want to witness the unveiling of the routine with which the Complainers will attempt to win prizes on the Class "A" competition circuit this summer.

Heaven knows how many shopping days there are before Christmas but even we know that there are only four more days before the Jaycees colossal eleventh annual 4th of July Celebration juggernauts into town. We are also pleased to note that in keeping with the festive, carnival spirit the Warren merchants are sponsoring Celebration Days on Thursday and Friday. Stores will be open both evenings and fireworks displays of values and bargains awaits all pre-4th of July shoppers.

An honorary Jaycee, younger in spirit than most active Jaycee members, will head one of the parade units as a Division Leader this Saturday. His name is Ike Reed and he admits to being "somewhere this side of 90." Ike has marched in every 4th of July parade held in Warren in the last thirty years and his stay will be just as springy, come Saturday as it was thirty years ago.

Celebration Chairman Gordon Drum has announced that among other people not coming to Warren for the Celebration will be Brigitte Bardot who, along with her husband Jacques Charrier, had planned to honeymoon over the Fourth in Tidouite but had to cancel at the last moment due to bad chest cold. Instead, Warren will be graced by the appearance of lovely TV personality, Imogene Signafoos. Imogene is a radiant star who is featured in such commercials as the gripping Bufferin saga — her piquant stomach is the one from which all those little "B's" escape into the blood stream so fast.

To prove her good sportsmanship, Imogene also plays the heart rending woman in the Anacin commercial whose skull is attacked nightly by little pixies bearing sledge hammers, jackhammers and other assorted torture weapons. Imogene will appear in the parade dressed as a huge Bufferin tablet. A unique twist is that she will gradually dissolve as the parade wears on.

Reaping their first rewards for having been selected finalists in the Miss Warren County Contest, Myrna, Minna, Barbara, Jeanne and Rosemarie were the guests of honor at a picnic held at Chapman Dam last Thursday by the Queens Contest committee. We commend and congratulate Co-Chairmen (and bachelors) Signafoos and Eames for their zealous devotion to duty and for the exhaustive program they have arranged for the finalists.

Three downtown store windows were recommended viewing for veterans window watchers. The Queen finalists lovely faces will peer back at you from a Warren Drug Store window while down the street at the Blub and White a cache of goodies has been assembled which are some of the prizes the girls will receive. O Liberty St. window of the Warren National's financial emporium houses a few of the prizes that will be presented to some lucky people at Beatty Field following the fireworks.

Committee Will Complete Parade Plans Tonight

Final preparations for Saturday's gigantic Independence Day Parade will be made at tonight's concluding Parade Committee meeting. The meeting will start at 8:30 at Chairman John Evans' home, 404 Poplar street.

The various marching units and musical groups entered in the Parade have been assigned to divisions and the entire line of march will be reviewed for the committee by Parade Coordinator Scott Himes. Preliminary parade orders are ready for publication with the official Orders appearing in Friday night's edition.

The committee will consider ways and means to insure that this year's parade is fast moving and tightly knit. By carefully positioning the emergency equipment such as wreckers the committee hopes to avoid any parade delays caused by float or vehicle breakdown.

All Parade Committee sub-chairmen will present their final reports covering their phase of the giant spectacle. All committee members are asked to be prompt as there is much business to cover at tonight's meeting.

Dethroned Floyd Hits Canvas Seven Times--To Surrender Crown

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson's "mystery" right hand turned out to be an atomic weapon—an explosive force that propelled him to the world's heavyweight championship.

The "thunder and lightning" that the undefeated Swede had promised was unleashed in a pulsating third round that saw defending champion Floyd Patterson felled seven times and stripped him of his crown in rain-soaked Yankee Stadium Friday night.

It was a right hand bomb that burst against the jaw of the 5-1 favored American seconds after the third round had started. The power-packed right smashed Patterson to the floor on his back and bereft him of his senses.

Calmly and coldly, as if he were sighting a rifle, the handsome blue-eyed Viking dropped his bleeding and reeling foe to the canvas until Referee Ruby Goldstein ended the slaughter with a wave of his hands.

It went into the record books as a technical knockout. The seven counts were 9, 9, 6, 6, 7, 9 and 1, all in two minutes and three seconds. It was a massacre.

The mighty right — never displayed in his lackluster tanning maneuvers—made the 26-year-old, 196-pounder the first Swede ever to win a world boxing championship.

It was complete atonement for Ingo's humiliating disqualification for running and not fighting against American Eddie Sanders in the heavyweight championship final of the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki. In these same games, Patterson was one of the shining stars in capturing the 163-pound crown.

The astonishing upset — witnessed by some 30,000 at the ball park and thousands more in theaters coast to coast—must rank with such shockers as Max Schmeling's kayo of Joe Louis in 1936, Jim Braddock's triumph over

Russell Passes Tangle To Sneak Home for Victory

Hyle Russell of Kane came through with his second consecutive feature win of the season at Statehouse Saturday night.

Field of 22 cars started off in a four-car tangle between first and second turns. All came out of the pileup without serious damage.

Bud Gardner of Clarendon, in his 1956 Ford, spun out on fourth turn early in the race, blocking inside lane remainder of the run.

Dean Layfield pushed his '57 into the lead in seventh lap and ran ahead until the 18th coming around third and fourth turns. Layfield collided with Jug Pierce. As Layfield tried to maneuver out of the tangle, Russell sped into first position and rode home for the checkered flag.

As they finished, Hyle Russell first, Dean Layfield second, Squirt Johns third, Bob Schnars fourth and Paul Wilson fifth.

Art Metal, Dunkirk, Beat Rockets In Weekend Action, 8-3 and 8-7

Warren Rockets sank deeper into bottom of Penn York League over the weekend, dropping two loop games. Saturday at State Hospital, Art Metal of Jamestown whipped the Rockets 8-3. Dunkirk Kocho hosted Warren Sunday, beating them 8-7.

Relief pitching by Adams blanked Warren final six innings in Saturday's game. Kelly McCool's wildness walked eight Art Metal batters in second and third innings. Jamestown clipped McCool for seven runs.

Rockets took an early 2-0 lead bottom of first. Art Metal evened the score in second innings. Jamestown exploded in third for five runs under which Warren was not able to recover. Rockets followed up the big rally with one run in their half.

Dunkirk's jinx still prevailed on the Rockets, who once again were held scoreless in final six innings. Warren, however, had a scoring picnic in first three innings, holding the lead until final minutes of the ninth when Dunkirk scored 3 runs to pull from a 2-run deficit and win.

Nick Cleola, Campbell and Mancuso were top batsmen for Rockets, Cleola 3-for-5, Campbell batting 2-for-4 and Mancuso also 2-for-4.

Crippled Kiddies Prove Incentive To Footballers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Some crippled children may provide the incentive to bring Baltimore its second National Football League Title.

Every day at 5 p.m. a group of Colts invades the quiet grounds of Kerner Hospital. For the next hour or so the robust athletes exercise at or are tested by equipment designed to help the handicapped.

The work goes on under the watchful eyes of Bill Neill and Ed Block.

"We theorized," said Neill, the hospital's director of physical therapy, "that the physical medicine we used for our patients here could also be used to prevent the Colts from suffering injuries X X X."

Block, the Colts' trainer and an assistant to Neill in the off season, likes to refer to the equipment at Kerner as his "secret weapon."

"In analyzing the needs of each individual player we locate the stress and strain areas and with secret weapons we can strengthen those areas," Block said.

Block and Neill both point with pride at what their program has done for defensive end Ordell Braase. Said Neill, "he has increased his chest girth by more than an inch and his upper arm by half an inch."

D'Amato Speaks: Return Bout Will Be Biggest Draw

(FIGHT DRESSING ROOMS)
By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "I think there will be a return bout and I believe it will be the biggest draw in the history of boxing."

The speaker was Gus D'Amato, the mysterious mastermind who dreamed up the fight that cost his fighter, Floyd Patterson, the world heavyweight championship Friday night.

"I think Johansson will want to prove that this was no fluke," D'Amato added. "There's a return bout clause in the contract."

Some 40 minutes before Sweden's Ingemar Johansson had stopped Patterson in 2.03 of the third round of a rain-plagued bout in Yankee Stadium. The disconsolate ex-champion had spent most of the intervening time in an inner room before he came out, fully dressed and showing few battle scars.

He backed into Mickey Mantle's dressing cubicle and the white-haired manager stood in front of him, relaying answers to shouted questions and adding his own opinions.

"I didn't see the punch coming," said the soft-voiced Patterson. "I don't really know where it landed." D'Amato then explained: "I saw it. It landed right here—between the eyes."

The noise, confusion and delay in Patterson's dressing room was nothing compared to the scene in and around Johansson's quarters where the visitors' dugout at Yankee Stadium.

Ingemar's sister Eva, dabbing at tears in her eyes, his mother and father—the latter still shaking from excitement, and his fiancée, Birgit Lundgren, waited out there with the mob while Ingo leisurely showered, dressed and took time to speak a few words for the Swedish radio. Then he answered questions in a voice almost inaudible to those who weren't close to him.

"You see I fool you," he said gleefully. "You thought my right hand was just a fantasy. I show you—and I also show Patterson."

Lethal Left Hands Helping Dodgers To Stay Near Top

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Sweden's Ingemar Johansson won the world heavyweight boxing title, by unleashing a murderous right hand.
Los Angeles Dodgers are hoping to win the National League baseball championship with left hands belonging to southpaw pitchers Johnny Podres, Sandy Koufax and Danny McDevitt.
Thanks to these three left-handers, the Dodgers today are in second place, only a game behind the league-leading Milwaukee Braves, and riding a seven-game winning streak. The trio has won five of the seven games, including the last three.
Sunday it was McDevitt's turn as the Dodgers thumped the Pittsburgh Pirates for the third straight day, 9-4. Milwaukee protected its lead with a 2-1 squeaker over Chicago. Third-place San

Kinzua Stars In 12 to 1 County Win

Triumphing over Sugar Grove 12-1 Sunday, Kinzua maintained their top position in Chautauque County Baseball Association.
A home run by Mohney, triples by Peterson, Rickerson and Mohney backed by Quiggle, C. Peterson and Baldensperger, the doubles, aided in the near blanketing of Sugar Grove.
Kinzua sped into an early lead with an 8-0 score. Sugar Grove came through the dust, bottom of fifth to register their lone run. Winners scored three more in seventh and added the 12th run in eighth inning.
Mahoney and Rickerson each were 4-for-5 at the plate. C. Peterson 3-for-5 for Kinzua.
In other weekend games, Cherry Creek was shutout by Rusti 2-0, Green Brothers beat Onoville 13-10, and Kennedy clipped Jamestown for a loss identical to Sugar Grove's, 12-1.

White Sox Inflict Double Defeat on Hapless Yankees

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
What a difference a day makes—especially if the day is Sunday.
Ask the Chicago White Sox who have won 12 out of 17 on the first day of the week. Because of Sunday, they're in second place, only one game behind the American League-leading Cleveland Indians. Without Sunday, they'd be in sixth place with a .500 percentage.
Ask the New York Yankees who have won only seven out of 21 on that day. Because of Sunday, they're in fifth place, four games off the pace. Without Sunday, they'd be in first place with a .580 percentage.
The Sunday sign prevailed again Sunday as the White Sox inflicted a double defeat on the Yankees, 3-2 and 4-2 to capture the series, three games to one.
Despite the double victory, Chicago failed to pick up ground on the Indians, who swept a pair from Boston 5-4 and 1-0. Detroit clumbed past the Yankees into

Black Knights In Invitational

Black Knights of Betts have been selected to represent Warren in Meadville Invitational Softball tournament which will be staged soon, manager Ang Regina said today.
Knights will be in tourney play with Fariell Num-Num who won the title last summer, Erie Sons of Italy, Meadville Pepsi, Erie Fulton Club A. C. and Olean Banby.
The eight team field will represent "the finest softball aggregation" in the entire tri-state area, Regina explained.
"We only hope we can do as good as last year—ending third," he added.
Ken Sorenson will be Knight's hope on the mound in the tournament. Bud Speiser and John Berdine will be used in pitching jobs also. Rico Bonavita will be the receiver.

Wilhelm Picked To Meet Burdette In All-Star Game

NEW YORK (AP)— Hoyt Wilhelm, Baltimore's amazing knuckleballer and Lew Burdette, Milwaukee man of many deliveries, loomed today as the probable starting pitchers in the 26th major league All-Star game, in Pittsburgh, Tuesday, July 7.
The pitchers, as well as the alternates, will be named by last year's pennant-winning managers later in the week. Each team will have 25 players. The players picked for the July game also will play in the second All-Star game in Los Angeles, Aug. 3.
The two managers—Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Fred Haney of the Braves—are authorized to add three more players for the second game.
The managers had nothing to do with the selection of the eight starters, picked by the players themselves.
The only unanimous selection was Milwaukee's Henry Aaron, who joined San Francisco's Willie Mays and Los Angeles' Wally Moon in the National League outfield. Two other Braves—catcher Del Crandall and third baseman Eddie Mathews—made the N. L. team, along with first baseman Orlando Cepeda of the Giants, second baseman Johnny Temple of the Cincinnati Reds and shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs.

All-Star Game II Shows Players Treated Too Well

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The story of the present baseball administration will be that of the worst in the history of the organized game dating back to 1876.
The game is sick and now Ford C. Frick, the onetime radio announcer who became commissioner, approves a second All-Star Game to be played in Los Angeles, Aug. 3, just 27 days after the first in Pittsburgh, July 7.
With the playing of a second edition, the All-Star Game, originated by Arch Ward, the Chicago sports editor in 1933, loses its purpose. The emphasis is taken off it. If these are to be two, why not three or four, or one between pick-up teams on every open date?
HAVING APPROVED EVERYTHING else harmful to baseball, to be consistent there is nothing else for Frick to do but put the World Series on the road. The rubber stamp car already has approved a third major league which would leave the World Series as anticlimactic as the final game of a Shaughnessy play-off in the minors.
The second All-Star Game, stirred up by Robin Roberts, leader of the money-hungry players and readily seconded by grasping owners, indicates that now the noble athletes have it too good. The idea is to swell the pension fund, you see, with the owners sitting away 40 per cent for the so-called major league's central fund.
For 77 years, the combatants were depicted as downtrodden slaves. Then in 1953 and at long last, Allie Reynolds and Ralph Kiner, league player representatives, engaged J. Norman Lewis, who had been the law partner of Leo Bondy when the latter was vice president and treasurer of the New York Giants.

chase during which ten shots were fired.
Soon after city policemen took up the "hunt" one deer ran headlong into a fence with such force it died as the result of injuries. The other white-tail leaped the same fence and dashed several city blocks, crashing through glassed-in porches and spreading consternation among property owners along its route. When the animal finally arrived in front of an embankment where it was safe to shoot, the officers ended its galloping adventure with bullets from their service revolvers.
About 9 a.m. the last day of May, in northwestern Pennsylvania, citizens of the city of Franklin were confounded at what they saw—a 150-pound black bear in a tree at the rear of a residence. The peaceful Sabbath atmosphere was soon shattered. Local policemen arrived in response to a distress call. They sprang from their cruiser, saw the bear in the tree and quickly radioed an alarm to the police station. The local newspaper, The Derrick, reported that Game Commission officials, fire trucks, sheriff's deputies, civil defense police, and hundreds of curious people—many with cameras—arrived on the scene in jig time. The incautious were kept at safe distance. After 80 minutes of waiting the bear finally came to earth. Then events moved swiftly.
With some harassment, directed by three Game Commission officers, local policemen and hundreds of "drivers" the desired result was accomplished. Impelled by screams of water from fire hoses—police car sirens wailing the while—brun ran here, bashed into a fence there and pecked into a closed manufacturing plant. Finally, as if bored with it all, the denizen of the forest yawned, turned and loped off into wooded hills at the edge of town. Not for a long time did a semblance of Sunday calm return to the city in the Pennsylvania oil country.

Odd Parlays Help Venturi Win Big Open in Chicago

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Ken Venturi made one of the oddest parlays in golf pay off for victory in the $37,000 Chicago Open.
He credited his garden in Daly City, Calif., a suburb of San Francisco, and the wind at Glenageary Country Club with helping bring him the $9,000 first award Sunday.
In repeating for the tournament's crown, Venturi drilled shots through the gusty wind for a closing 66 and a 7-under-par total of 273. He made up five shots on Johnny Pott of Shreveport, the leader through the first three rounds, who closed with a 72 and 274 for runnerup swag of $4,600.
Venturi, who inserted the Los Angeles Open triumph between his 1958 Chicago Open and this one for his only victories in a year is a perfectionist.

Pennsylvania Outdoors ...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Twin Crops
Tree Farm program of growing trees as a crop holds the key to material increases in wildlife resources as well as to the nation's wood supply, according to Arthur H. Carhart of Denver, well-known outdoor writer and conservationist.
Trees and wildlife live together on nearly half a billion acres of commercial timberlands in United States. A great many of our animals and birds require forest environments for food and shelter. Value of natural resources lies in making wise use of such wealth. Therefore, wise management of timber and of game is directed at the production and harvest as a crop—indeed, they are twin crops.
Well-planned management of timberlands means two things of prime interest to sportsmen. First, in most instances it assures high levels of production of both wood and wildlife. Second, it is the best prospect of sustained yields in both resources.
Advance Safety Program
Game Commission representatives responsible for advancement of firearms and hunter safety training program recently planned further schooling for instructors at meetings to be sectionally arranged.
Commission is just completing its first year as a state organization engaged in firearms and hunter safety training. In past 12 months all Pennsylvania Game Protectors qualified as instructors for the course designed by National Rifle Association. They in turn have taught 1,700 other instructors who have been certified.
Since the Commission entered the project 11,000 students, mostly boys but including some girls, have taken and passed the training course.

Ref Thinks of Floyd In Stopping Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—"It was better for him to be able to walk out than have to be carried out."
This was Referee Ruby Goldstein's explanation of why he stopped the heavyweight championship fight between Patterson and Ingemar Johansson Friday night.
Ruby, 51-year-old veteran of many title bouts, gave the signal that made Johansson the champion at 2:03 of the third round after Patterson had been felled seven times.
"I didn't have any idea how much time was left in the round," Ruby said, "but it really didn't matter. A man can be injured permanently in two or three seconds."
Patterson was worn out, completely exhausted. It wasn't a case of his suffering injuries from Johansson's punches, but the idea that he was completely helpless to ward off any more punches."

Congress Scheduled To Act on Excise Tax Plan
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress acts today on a compromise corporation-excise tax extension bill to avert a three-billion-dollar drop in tax revenues for the next year.
The House acts first and the Senate must follow quickly if present tax rates are to be continued beyond Tuesday midnight.
It was the sixth time that Congress has been called on to continue increased tax rates voted initially in 1951 to finance the Korean fighting.
The bill extends for another year the Korean wartime 52 per cent income tax rate on corporation profits. It postpones a scheduled drop to 47 per cent.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE—Manager Wally Sauter examines damage to the electronic-controlled "out" door at Quality Market at North Warren which was entered by a robber sometime early Sunday morning. It is believed a crow bar was used to open the locked door. The entry was one of seven made in Warren and Tidoute over the weekend. See story page 1.

Warren Men Honored At Retreat Session

Of the 165 men of the Archbishop Gannon Retreat League attending the retreat at Christ The King Seminary, St. Bonaventure, N. Y., this past weekend, 21 were from the local St. Joseph and Holy Redeemer parishes.
The retreat session started Friday, June 26, 8:00 p. m. and concluded Sunday, June 29, 4:00 p. m., under the direction of Father Owen Ormsby, O. F. M., Retreat Director, and Father Fabian Joyce, O. F. M., Retreat Master. The retreat is an annual event in the Erie Diocese, and the retreat week-end sessions are conducted weekly through the summer months.
At a short business meeting held Sunday the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, William D. Mackowski, Bradford; first vice-president, James Nicholson, DuBois; second vice-president, William J. O'Donnell, Bradford; secretary, John Salamon, Warren, a member of Holy Redeemer parish.

Girl Cuts Arm As Auto Leaves Highway

Donna Colvin, 17, of 21 Clark street, received a lacerated arm when the car in which she was riding failed to negotiate a curve near Youngsville Saturday evening.
Driver of the auto was Richard Tutaro, 18, of 15 Laid street.
State Police who investigated said Tutaro was going east about 5 miles west of Youngsville when the accident occurred. Estimated damages to the car was $500.

Penn'a Steel Workers Hope To Avoid Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh steelworkers are still hopeful that a threatened steel strike may be averted now that the present contract has been extended until July 14.
The contract was due to expire at midnight Tuesday, but president David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers announced an extension of the pact Saturday.
Gene Lis, a maintenance worker in one of the Pittsburgh mills, said: "I hope they don't go out. We were sort of hoping for the extension. Now that they have two more weeks to talk, maybe there won't even be a strike."
Albert Eiter, another worker, had this to say:
"Nobody wants a strike. Most of the guys in the mill—most working men anywhere for that matter—can't afford a strike. All hope is that this postponement will give them enough time to agree to a new contract."
All were not optimistic, however. "If they couldn't get anywhere in a month and half, they won't do anything in two weeks either," said steelworker Harry Dailer.

Town Doesn't Like Home Mail Delivery

RAHNS, Pa. (AP)—The folks in this rural southeastern Pennsylvania hamlet gave home-delivered mail a try. They didn't like it.
Eighty-nine of the 118 residents have signed a petition asking the Post Office Department to go back to the old system of delivering mail to the branch post office in the village store.

Democrats Hold Large Lead In New Voter Registration

It's a Democratic world—in registration campaigning.
Since last Monday, 24 voters have registered in the Democratic ranks, compared to 2 Republicans for the same period. This gives the former party 97 new enrollments, 24 for GOP in a month of registration.
Two non partisan registrations past week made it 4 new voters since the May primary.
As they now stand, a total of 18,216 are eligible to cast their vote. Broken down, it gives Republicans 11,979, Democrat 5,876, Non Partisan 255, Prohibitionist 105 and one Socialist.

Inspectors Make Check of County Jail Facilities

Warren County jail received a "good" rating by Bureau of Correction, Division of Inspections, on a check of the lockup last week.
Arthur T. Prasse, Commissioner of Correction and Robert Itri, Director of Inspections, cited several reasons why the jail could not receive an excellent rating.
Being a small lockup, it lacks an exercise yard, personnel to check prisoners during the night, no sick bay room, absence of Sunday worship services, which figure in on the rating.
Two suggestions were offered County Commissioners in correction at the jail. Those included a larger window to pass food from the kitchen to the cell and menus planned on a weekly or 10-day basis and posted in the jail.
A rating of excellent was given the administration and management, housekeeping, sanitation and personal hygiene, food culinary management.
Deputy Sheriff Don Allen said today that the jail handled 219 prisoners for a total of 2,037 days in 1958. Today this year, 169 prisoners have been cared for.

Opening Door Caught By Passing Vehicle

An opening door was caught by a passing car at 12:09 this afternoon, resulting in $100 damages to each car.
Wilford L. Gorman, 53, of Endeavor opened his door into the east lane of traffic by Conewango avenue. Driving east was Clara B. Benson of 8 Dartmouth.
The Benson machine caught the door on the Gorman car, tearing it back. Officer Charles Musante investigated.

PLASTIC BAG WARNING

NEW YORK (AP)—Plastic bag warnings go to 70,000 New Yorkers this week. They are being sent along with all city relief checks at the request of the Health Department. A number of children have suffocated by accidentally covering their faces with plastic bags or sheeting.

DAIRYMAN COLLIDED

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—John Coolidge, son of the late President Calvin Coolidge, is going into the dairy business. He and two associates have taken out papers of incorporation for a plant to process milk, cheese and other products.

REEVES FUNERAL

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Funeral services for actor George Reeves will be held Wednesday in the Wayside Chapel of Gates, Kingsley and Gates Mortuary.
Reeves died in his home of a bullet wound in the head June 16. Police said it was suicide.

DROWNS ON PICNIC

CASTLE, N.Y. (AP)—Two 13-year-old girls on a church picnic slipped on loose rock Sunday at the top of a 100-foot gorge. Susan Metz plunged down the cliff and was drowned in the Genesee River. Susan Rutecki caught a tree branch and was pulled to safety by a park worker as the branch began to break.
The sense of taste is quite acute in ants, bees and wasps.

N. Y. Auto Crash Injures 7 Warren Girls Saturday

Three Warren girls were hospitalized in Cuba, N.Y., Memorial Hospital early Saturday morning when their car left the highway and crashed head-on into a tree.

Still hospitalized is Susan Lyle, 16, of 58 Locust street, who sustained a compound fracture of the left leg. Discharged Sunday were the driver of the car, Ruby Gross, 18, of 302 Water street, and Delorse Gelotte, 17, of 28 Plum street. Gross suffered a lacerated forehead, cerebral concussion and a contusion. Gelotte received lacerations.
Four other girls were released following treatment Saturday. They included Mary C. Kondak, Kathy Dunbeck, Joan K. Brown, and Shirley Ann Brooks, all of the Warren area.

According to Robert J. Flower, Cuba police chief, Gross was driving west on County Road 7 when her car went off the highway on a sharp left curve, commonly known as "Suicide Curve," at 1:30 a. m. Saturday and struck the tree.
Front seat was torn loose and shoved forward. Flower reported "heavy damage" to the auto.
Both ambulance services of Cuba were called to the scene, and, aided by private cars, removed the injured to the hospital.
The road was dry, but dark and unlighted.

JC's Seek $6,000 Fund for Independence Day Program

The roulette addicts at Monte Carlo and the big spenders from Las Vegas have nothing on the Warren Jaycees who, each year, gamble their very existence as an organization on the promotion of a successful 4th of July Celebration.

The 1959 Celebration budget, released today by General Chairman Gordon Drum, reveals that 6000 is the magic number. This figure represents the amount of money that must be raised to pay for all the free entertainment that will be offered area residents during the two day celebration.

There are two means through which the Jaycees hope to finance this year's program, according to Drum. The first is through solicitation of funds from all County industries and businesses. Solicitations Chairman Chuck Thomas disclosed that the Jaycees have set a goal of $3000 for this campaign. He said that only $2000 has been raised thus far.

The second major source of income for the Celebration is through a promotion that is used as a grand finale for the entire program following the fireworks Saturday evening, providing a means for every person in the area to support the event in a financial manner.

According to the budget, the major Celebration expense is for the parade. In the past, this item alone has cost over $2000. Through the better organization that comes with experience, the Committee will provide the same high calibre parade this year at a cost of $1600.

One thousand dollars is the price for the sensational fireworks display that will conclude the Celebration. This covers the cost of the display itself as well as insurance and related expenses. Expenses related to the Queen's Contest and Coronation Ball are expected to amount to $250, while the Firemen's Water Battle event has been budgeted at $50.

Prizes for the Celebration have cost the Committee $255 and the final budget item is a $600 entry for administrative expenses. Under the heading of administrative expenses comes such things as insurance, printing, decorations, phone calls and miscellaneous purchases.

Chairman Drum pointed out that Warren has become widely known and respected throughout northwestern Pennsylvania and upstate New York because of the annual Independence Day Celebrations. These Celebrations are made possible only through the support of individuals, merchants and industry. "This is not the first time that it looked as though the Celebration was going to be a financial flop," he concluded, "and we on the committee are confident that the people of Warren County will come through as they always have in the past, to ensure a gala 4th of July for all."

FORMER LOCAL MAN RECEIVES PROMOTION

Family and friends of Aubrey Knudsgard, of Atlanta, Ga., formerly of Pleasant township where his parents still reside, have learned of his promotion to assistant chief pilot for Southern Airways, Inc., in whose employ he has flown for ten years; two as a co-pilot, eight as a captain.

The new position carries added responsibility; efficiency checks of all pilots at six month intervals; training and approving new co-pilots, as well as other special duties connected with passenger transportation.

Of a recent organization banquet it was announced that seven of the airlines' senior pilots, of which Captain Knudsgard is one, have a flight record of over two million miles. He has been highly commended for excellent service during his affiliation with Southern Airways.

CORYDON

CORYDON — A countrywide gathering of home economics groups was held at Island Park, Youngsville, with a farewell picnic-dinner honoring Mrs. Geraldine Johnston. She was presented a lovely silver tea service from the groups.

Attending from here were Mrs. Margaret Ruth, Mrs. Eleanor Ruth, Mrs. Helen Stoltz, Mrs. Glendine LaDow, Mrs. Audrey Duntley, Mrs. Hazel Benton and Timothy Whitney.

The quarterly meeting of Warren County Fire Auxiliary was held at North Warren, with a fine program and lunch enjoyed by a large attendance. The next gathering will be held in Corydon some time in October. Present from the local unit were Mrs. Wayne Ruth, Mrs. Paul Duntley, Mrs. Lois Hammond, Mrs. G. A. Frue, Mrs. Doreen Pascarella, Mrs. Hazel Benton, Mrs. Lottie Mhyte, Mrs. Ora Carnahan, Mrs. Hulda Black, Mrs. Clyde LaDow and Mrs. Mabel Russ.

Mrs. Russell Murphy, Jr., has returned to Orlando, Fla., after visiting with friends and at the Stanley Platt home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Niver, Bradford, have been visitors of Mrs. Velma Learn.

Mrs. Richard Ruth left Sunday to spend a few days in North East.

Mrs. George Akers and Mrs. L. R. Stryker have been visitors in Randolph.

BARNES

BARNES — The congregation of the Methodist church is glad to welcome back for his fourth year the Rev. Jack Parsons, reassigned to Sheffield and Barnes parishes at the annual Erie Conference sessions in Meadville.

Mrs. Sherman Grubbs, with Mrs. Shirley Johnson of Sheffield, accompanied Mrs. Mabel Cunningham to her home in Jersey City for a two-week visit.

Mrs. Myron Alling is the guest for the summer of her son, Frank, and family. She has recently returned from Santa Barbara, Calif., where she spent the winter with her daughters, and stopped en route here to visit two other sons, Charles, in Tulsa, Okla., and Raymond, in Dewey, Okla.

Ronald Allen and two sons, of Erie, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Allen. The former went by plane to Arizona to visit relatives.

Attorney and Mrs. David Swanson, visited last Wednesday and Thursday in Erie, where he attended a Bar Association meeting. Their six months' old daughter, Kirsten Elizabeth, was baptized Sunday morning in the Methodist church.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rounds were Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Conti and four children, Pittsburgh. The Rounds family was among 160 guests attending the open house held recently in Warren for the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Neils Palmquist.

Ralph Donaldson is enjoying a two-week vacation and, with his family, spent several days with Mrs. Hazel Wolfe at West Sunbury.

Recent visitors in town have been Mrs. Goldie Hermley and her three children, of Lebanon. Mrs. Hermley will be remembered as Goldie Kinney, former local resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Putnam, Saegertown, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hover.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conquer and son, Larry, are enjoying a week's vacation and had a two-day trip to Hershey and Elizabethtown.

Mrs. Helen Roberts, with Mrs. H. S. Brown of Sheffield, is home after spending a week in Toledo, O., with Mrs. Helen Sargent.
